VOL. 1.—NO. 3. INDIANAPOLIS, JULY, 1891. 25C A YEAR.

MARRYING A STAMP.

In the Old World, where marriages are often arranged purely as a matter of business, it has long been customary for the possessor of any kingdom or of one estate to gain another by "marrying it," but it is probable that not until lately has it occurred to any one to marry a postage stamp. This, however, seems at last to have occurred to some one, for a French Journal recently published the following advertisement:

"MATRIMONY.—A collector of postage stamps, possessing 12,544 specimens, desires to contract a marriage with a young lady, also a collector, who has the blue Mauritius penny stamp of 1847. No others need apply."— Youth's Companion.

THE FATHER OF POSTAGE STAMPS.

Everybody knows that a postage stamp is a vignette which serves to pay for the forwarding of an article through the mails, and to avoid their being used twice, every stamp has to be either annulled or cancelled. No doubt you have all heard the story, for it is an old one, of the traveler who in 1837, was at a shabby English inn when the local postman brought a letter to his hostess. She looked at the envelope a moment and then asked how much was to be paid for it.

"Two shillings," said the man.

"Ah," replied she, "that is altogether too dear. I cannot pay so much."

"Well, well," retorted the postman, "I must take the letter back to the office."

Moved by the scene the traveler offered to pay the two shillings, but the young woman would not let him. He asked the reason, whereupon she said the letter in question was from her brother, but being to poor to pay the tax, they corresponded by means of signs agreed upon which was traced upon the envelope. The traveler was Rowland Hill, member of the House of Commons, and the incident caused him to put on his thinking cap. Not long afterwards Parliament adopted his plan. He was charged with seeing to the issue of the first postage stamps that were ever known, and soon all other countries followed England's example.—Monthly.

The 1890 issues of Salvador and Nicaragua are as handsome as any stamps that have ever been issued. We are offering them as premiums this month. See advertising pages.

The International Postage Stamp has been rejected by the commissioners.

A PROFITABLE VACATION.

BY HOOSIER PHIL.

There was about two hundred and fifty out of the three hundred stamps that I did not have in my collection, but many of these I could not classify.

It took me all the rest of the day to finish mounting my stamps, but when I had finished some of the countries made a pretty good showing, especially Mexico.

The next morning we were up early and at the depot in time. The good-byes were said and Will and I climbed up into the car and took our seats just in front of a pleasant looking, brown visaged, old gentleman who seemed perfectly at home in a railway car.

We had not long to wait before we were flying past houses and stores and out into the country. As soon as the country scenery became tiresome I opened my valise and took out my stamp collection and as I turned over page after page Will's surprise grew greater and greater at my having obtained so large a collection in a single day. When I told him where I obtained them he determined to send for a packet as soon as we reached our destination.

We looked over the collection and talked about the stamps and the countries from which they came.

The gentleman behind us having overheard part of our conversation, leaned over the back of the seat and asked if he might look at the collection.

I handed it to him and as he turned over page after page he said that he had travelled a great deal and had visited many of the places represented by the stamps.

As he came to the stamps of those countries, he had visited he told us stories about the country, the people and incidents that happened while he was there. He told us what the face value of the stamps were in our money and read and translated many of the inscriptions.

Several times he found stamps, that, by reading the inscriptions, he knew had been misplaced. He was very willing to tell us anything he knew about them and he classified nearly all the stamps of which I had been in doubt.

He said he had some letters at home from foreign countries and would send us the stamps. We thanked him and gave him our address.

At the next station he bid us good-bye and got off the train.

[To be Continued.]

The following persons are requested to settle their accounts with the Hoosier Stamp Co.or return approval sheets at once, otherwise their names will be published in full in our next issue: E. Bindley, Lima, Ind., $2.60; R. S. B., Rockford, Ill., $4.01; C. E. C., Glenwood, Iowa; E. J. N., Ft. Madison, Iowa, $1.61; L. S., Knoxville, Ill., $1.15; J. K. W., Centerbrook, Conn., $1.12.

Mr. A. J. Gillet, of this city, has recently returned from Chicago where he attended an auction sale of the Chicago Philatelic Society.

Notes and Comments.

The Eagle Philatelest is announced to appear from Kansas City.

***

The U. S. postage due stamps have lately been changed in color from brown to claret.

***

Australia has at last been admitted to the Postal Union.

***

Look out for forged cape of Good Hope, 1 shilling, triangular, green.

***

We would like to know how many Standard ? Catalogues are published in the U. S.

***

Every collector should subscribe to this paper. Every dealer should advertise in it.

***

A letter-carrier at Wheeling, W. Va., successfully delivered a letter to a man, with the name of George Schwifferwitzerenontherheim.

***

The Brooklyn Philatelist, with R. Asheroft and J. Dahlfues as editors and publishers, presents a neat appearance and contains some interesting notes.

***

A curiously addressed letter lately passed through the post-office at Madrid, Spain, which was deciphered and correctly delivered, notwithstanding all difficulties. The address was a perfect rebus. At the left hand side was the figure of a lady; it was clear, herefore, to which sex the recipient should belong. Over the lady's head the sun was rising, hence her name was inferred to be Aurora. For her surname stood a hill, with a castle at its foot, which gives us "Montesy Castillo." Next comes the town, for which the plan of a city was drawn, on which the Alhambra was legible. This indicated Granada, but in order to leave no doubt possible, a pomegranate was drawn beside the plan. To complete the address a number was indicated in one of the streets of the city plan. The postal authorities took three days to study this curiosity, and then triumphantly delivered the letter to "Senorita Aurora Montes y Castillo, Azacayas, No. 20 Granada," and, so far from censuring the sender, they had the envelope photographed and a copy printed in the Madrid papers as a proof of the intelligence of the department.

***

We will hold the following offer open for one month longer. A two line card will be placed in our Dealers Directory for one year for only 85 cents, cash in advance.

***

It must take them a long while to print at St. Louis. Mekeel's Address Book has been in press for about three months and is still "in it."

***

We have received the Auction Catalogue of the S. B. Bradt Co., and consider it the neatest auction catalogue we have ever seen. The bidding is done by the lot and not by the piece.

***

The fifteen cent stamp of Switzerland is now printed in violet.

Editorial.

We wish to extend our thanks to one of our subscribers, Mr. Herbert Harter, of Delaware, Ohio, for the articles entitled "Marrying a Stamp," and "The Father of Postage Stamps" which appear in this issue.

The following clipping, from the Indianapolis News, shows the necessity of taking some steps towards the settlement of the duty on postage stamps: A collection of old stamps, that had been bought in London for $1,216, reached the Chicago custom house this week. It was directed to a Chicagoan, and when he called for the package he was dazed by being informed that the stamps came under the law of printed matter, and he would, teerefore, have to pay a duty of $304 on them. He emphatically refused to pay the charge, preferring, he said, to let them go back to the London dealer.

The following letter shows the value of placing an advertisment in this paper:

EAST BRANCH, N. Y.
June 30th, 1891.

Hoosier Stamp:

Gentlemen: — I am well satisfied with my investment of 40c. for an inch "ad." in the June number of the Hoosier Stamp, as I have received twice as many answers from it as I did from same space in the Eastern Philatelist, ("ad" rates 60c. per inch) and Post Office ("ad" rates $1.00 per inch,) I shall soon contract for larger space. Enclosed please find 40c. for an inch in July number.

Yours truly, P. B. HAWK.

L. B. 17.

We have received many letters similar to the above from our advertisers, but have not the space to publish them.

N. B. Place your money where it will bring you the best results, i. e. in the Hoosier Stamp.

All of the Philatelic Papers have not as yet "got us on the list" among their exchanges. Please put us down, brothers.

Mr. Trifets Galaxy of Music has reached us and is certainly worth $1.00 the price of subscription.
